

Introduction to the University Records Retention and Disposal Authority

Lucinda Davies

- Provides a legal mechanism for the retention and disposal of university records in accordance with the Public Records Act 1973
- Identifies records to be kept permanently
- Prevents premature destruction of records
- Specifies the minimum (and in some cases maximum) retention period
- Authorises destruction of records deemed temporary
- Mandates prompt destruction of records as per the Information Privacy Act 2000

University Records

“...a record comprised of recorded information in any form (regardless of format), created or received and maintained by the University and its officials in the course of conducting its administrative and operational affairs, and retained as evidence of such activity...”

Some university records and information can be destroyed under normal administrative practice (NAP)

This includes:

- Working papers
- Drafts
- Reference material i.e. extra copies of documents and publications, superseded manuals, catalogues, trade and professional journals
- Unsolicited advertising material
- Copies

- The Crimes (Document Destruction) Act 2006 makes it an offence for individuals or organisations to destroy documents that they know are or are reasonably likely to be required as evidence in a future legal proceeding
- It is also an offence to expressly or implicitly authorise a person to destroy such documents
- RDA is subject to the provisions of the Crimes Act – i.e. if records are likely or reasonably likely to be required as evidence then they MUST NOT be destroyed.
- But destroying records using this RDA is lawful as long as the previous requirement is met.

Description/Record Class

- Contact the Disposal Advice Service -
http://www.unimelb.edu.au/records/corporate/disposal_advice_service.html
- Will recommend either the incorporation of the records class into an existing disposal class in the RDA or develop a new disposal class by writing an Appraisal Report
- Either method will result in the RDA being updated

- It's also available as a searchable online database

* PLEASE NOTE - This brief introduction to the online version of the Retention and Disposal Authority (RDA) is a work in progress - for more detailed information about the RDA, its application and use, please read the Guidelines for Use document, found here - <http://www.unimelb.edu.au/records/corporate/disposal.html> ****

At the University of Melbourne documents and records are created as part of daily business activity. This Retention and Disposal Authority presents classes of records and rules (policies) for disposal within the framework of the Enterprise Classification Scheme.

In the RDA you will find:

- Function - the broadest unit of business performed by the University
- Activity Descriptor - major processes or groups of tasks undertaken within each Function
- Disposal Class - classes of documents/records with the same disposition rules

For each Enterprise Classification Scheme term, the RDA shows:

- Scope Notes - notes that provide guidance on the use of a term
- Broader Terms - terms at a higher level
- Narrower Terms - terms at a lower level

For each Disposal Class, the schedule shows:

- Dates of Coverage - period of validity for the Disposal Class
- Disposition Actions - includes the archival status of each class (i.e. permanent or temporary and where the disposition is temporary, a retention period is provided) and who is responsible for the custody of the records
- See also - "See also" link to another Disposal Class

*IMPORTANT USABILITY NOTE: when browsing through the RDA to find a disposal class, always click on the plus sign. Clicking on activities will take you to the first instance of that activity which might not be within the function you are browsing.

Using the RDA within TRIM

The screenshot shows the TRIM Context application window. The title bar reads "TRIM Context - [Records - Record Number is '10/2540' - 1 Record Found]". The interface includes a menu bar (File, Edit, Search, Tools, Window, Help), a toolbar with various icons, and a search bar containing "10/2540". A left-hand sidebar contains a "Shortcuts" menu with icons for Favorites, Records, Locations, Classifications, Schedules, Thesaurus Terms, Saved Searches, and Document Queues. The main content area displays a table with one record:

Record Number	Title	Date Created	Assignee
10/2540	EXTERNAL RELATIONS - Conferences - University Recordkeepers Forum URF - 2010 - Arrangements	7/07/2010 at 11:52 AM	At Home Location: RECORDS SERVICES

Below the table, a detailed view of the record is shown. The "Retention Schedule (enter RA0 if unknown)" section is highlighted with a red box. It contains the following information:

- 0200/2150/3 EXTERNAL RELATIONS - Conferences
- Notes: Records documenting arrangements to hold conferences including program development, arranging speakers, promotion, registration management and venue bookings.
- Includes draft programs, publicity, invitations, venue accommodation and catering arrangements.
- Temporary
- Destroy 2 years after last action completed.
- Custody Triggers: Make Inactive 6 Months after Last Action Date
- Destroy Triggers: Destroy 2 Years after Last Action Date

The bottom of the window shows a status bar with "Records - Record Number is '10/2540' - 1 Record Found" and "Recent Documents - 25 Records Found". The bottom right corner of the window displays "Lucinda Davies | TRIM | context.its.unimelb.edu.au".

How do I use the RDA?

- Examine the records to see what they are about
- Determine function & activity used to create the records – look up the ECS (<http://www.unimelb.edu.au/records/ECS/>)
- Then refer to the RDA and the corresponding function & activity
- Read through the records class under that function & activity combination
- If more than one records class covers the records you have, either seek clarification with the Disposal Advice Service or use the disposal sentence with the longest retention period
- If unable to find an appropriate disposal sentence, contact the Disposal Advice Service
